FRIDAY EVEN'G., NOVEMBER 17.

A JUMPING THIEF. - A lady stopping at the Forest City House returned to her room, which she had left unlocked for a few minutes last evening, and saw a colored man in it. With a singular presence of mind she locked the door and notified the clerk, who repaired to the room. Opening it he found the man had gone, whither he was unable to tell unless an open window could solve the mystery. Subsequent events led to the belief that the man must have become so afraid of capture that he risked a flying leap out of the window, the room being on the third floor. About the time he was locked in a couple of man in Solomonson's optician store on Superior street saw a colored interest; the defered payments to be secured to tician store on Superior street saw a colored man come dashing down through their awning, teet first, and with so much force that he ripped a hole clear through it, and landed in a sitting posture on the pavement. They captured him and asked him what he meant by shooting down like a meteor out of the sky. He replied that he had jumped out of the second floor window, but was unable to tell what he meant by taking so short a cut to the pavement. The men finally let him go. He sat on a box By virtue of a deed of trust executed to me hy for a few moments and then proceeded slowly down the street, limping as he went. He was subsequently arrested while sitting on a box on Seneca street. He gave his name as Moses Robinson, said he lived at the rear of No. 410 Perry street and was twenty-seven years of age, but denied the jumping entirely. He was identified by parties who saw him as being the party who took the leap. At the time of the jump he had a dressed chicken under one arm jump he had a dressed chicken under one arm and a dezen and a half of eggs in one pocket. ed and enclosed. Upon the farm there is a comfortable DWELLING HOUSE and seem for the latter were broken. As $38 Only three of the latter were broken. As $38 was missing from the room in the hotel, Robinson was charged with being a suspicious person. He was locked up .- Cleveland (Ohio)
